

Living In Well-Lit Luxury

Light is far more than just a physical quantity for the team at lightsphere. There, the power of light serves as a daily source of inspiration, a metaphysical instrument, a tool of aesthetic expression, and a means to understand both form and time. Based across offices in Zurich and Vaduz, lightsphere is an independent lighting design office that is a trusted partner of architects, interior designers, investors, and operators. Such is the excellence of the firm that it has been awarded the title of Most Innovative Lighting Design Office 2021 – Zurich. Find out more about these luxurious designs as we take a closer look.

As a trusted partner to many architects, interior designers, investors, and operators, lightsphere is responsible for designing and developing interdisciplinary lighting design concepts for interior and exterior spaces. Every design that lightsphere works on is both luxurious in nature, but also always design-specific, precise in nature, sustainable, and customer-oriented. lightsphere's office provides space for both exchange and inspiration, for both ideas and experiments. It is a place where experience and curiosity are on an equal footing, and the balance between idealism and realism leads to modern, ambitious lighting solutions. As well as delivering luxurious results, the team at lightsphere operate with a fundamental philosophy that was outlined above. The prudent use of natural and artificial light requires a multifaceted approach. Therefore, lightsphere understands lighting design as synergy between architecture, psychology, science, art, and technology.

Since being formed and having delivered lighting luxury ever since, lightsphere has strived to serve clients of all kinds and project types. No matter what the request may be, the firm's first port of call is to understand the user of the building and the space, and find out exactly what their needs are. From there, the team carefully and meticulously analyse the individual requirements to apply the best possible design solution, and this makes every project a unique piece of lighting design that is tailored to the needs of the individual client. lightsphere strives for excellence and luxury in every aspect of its work, keeping it simple yet meaningful every time.

Light can be used in a myriad of ways, and to a number of effects. It can be used to create a space that is free from a feeling of being trapped, or it can be used to set a tone or generate a particular mood. There is fine line between too much of either artificial or natural light, but lightsphere always manages to find that perfect, luxurious balance to make a space feel nothing short of perfection. Every individual plays a part in the success that lightsphere has experienced since its inception, and the staff's motivation, individual experiences, and curiosity all serve to create an extensive and creative pool of ideas from which the firm can draw on.

2020 may have been a year quite unlike any other, but it has not deterred the work of lightsphere in any way, shape, or form. The physical distance brought about by the pandemic has actually served to bring people closer together socially, and lightsphere has had the time to focus on its core values, particularly that of connecting with staff and clients alike. New online tools have become an integral part of what it now offers, and it is taking the time to learn and understand new, innovative lighting designs. As the world returns to normal, slowly but surely, lightsphere is readying itself to get back to work and back to creating luxuriously well-lit spaces.

Ultimately, this multidisciplinary and multifaceted firm has experienced a multitude of magnificent success over the years, and every bit of it is fully deserved. lightsphere is a fantastic firm, and one that understands how light can be used to achieve maximum luxury within any given space. With 2021 well underway and life beginning to show some semblance of normality once again, lightsphere is a veritable beacon of hope that we can all have a bright and luxurious future.
